Advertisers are cordially invited to visit our press and mailing rooms at all times and verify the above statement.

Most advertisers will tell you that a newspaper that goes into the bome is worth ten times as much as an advertising medium as one that goes elsewhere. The beauty of this theory is that one is able to reason out for himself the correctness of it. It is simply this way. The newspaper that is bought carelessly upon the street, or is merely a men's newspaper, is naturally thrown away quickly; and especially are the advertising columns neglected, for the "women folks" are the great readers of advertisements. This, ico, is natural, because it has been carefully calculated by experts that they spend nine-tenths, some say 95 per cent even, of the money that the men folks earn. The newspaper that a woman likes is the good advertising medium, therefore. And because it is a good men's paper also, as The Times is, does not necessarily make it any less interesting to the women.

Refused to Visit McKinley With the " Citizens' Committee.

Objected to the Memorial Urging the Appointment of Ross and Dodge as District Commissioners.

The Joint committee, representing the various citizens' associations of the District, presented its memorial to President McKinley yesterday recommending the appointment of Mr. W. C. Dodge and Mr. John W. Ross, both of East Washington, as District Commissioners.

But this presentation was accomplished under a severe strain, after much hard feeling had been aroused, and after at least three gentlemen on the committee had re tired in sore disgruntlement.

It was resolved at the meeting held or Tuesday night that a full committee, repre senting each of the various citizens' as sociations in the District, should draw up a fitting memorial relating the excellencies of the two gentlemen, Mr. W. C. Dodge and Mr. John W. Ross, for the positions to be filled, and that this memorial should be presented by the committee to the Presi dent yesterday at sech a time as might be appointed by him. After the meeting adjourned on Tuesday night the appointment was made with Mr. McKinley through Private Secretary Porter for half past two yesterday afternoon.

There had been some soreness exhibite at the Tuesday evening meeting as to the action that should be taken. The memorial was at first drawn up recommending only Mr. W. C. Dodge, the Republican, and leaving Mr. Ross out of the question en-This was not satisfactory to most of the members of the committee, and Gen. Birney, the chairman of the committee, sug gested that the memorial should be so mod fied as to include Mr. Ross as the Democratic choice of the meeting. It was in this condition that the committee adjourned on Tuesday night.

About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, half an hour before the agree 1 time of meet ing the President, the committee met in the offices of Gen. Birney, on Louislana avenue about a tulle from the White House. During all yesterday morning, or part of that tim Gen. Birney had been adding to the first memorial the paragraphs that he thought necessary in favor of Commissioner Ross for reappointment. A few minutes after 2 Dr. W. A. Croffut, the secretary of the mittee, asked if he might be permitted to read the revised memorial. This Cen Birney could not refuse, although the tin was passing rapidly toward the hour of the appointment by the President.

Dr. Croffut leisurely read the amended nemorial, and at tenminutes after 2 drew Mr. Josiah Millard and Mr. Lerin Chappel to continue its consideration. At 2:15 Dr. Croffut made the announcemen that the memorial was not a suitable one, that it did not voice the opinions of the It was a situation that required immediate and determined action, if the Presiden was to receive the East Washington citizens' committee and the other citizens committees at 2:30.

"This memorial puts Mr. Ross on ar equal footing with Mr. Dedge," Dr. Crof fut said. "It was the sense of the meeting last night that Mr. Dodge should be recommended as the choice of the committee, and that if Mr. Dodge were not chosen, or for any reason he was not Mr. Ross should be presented as suggested as second choice. By putting Mr. Ross on an exactly equal footing with Mr. Dodge the entire intention of the committee is negatived.

"Gentlemen," said Gen Birney, "we have no time for a meeting now-not a moment. You all know that Dr. Croffut is mistaken in his beilef, and that the memerial, as it is now drawn, is in exact accordance with your wishes.

"I refuse to be a member of this con mittee if this memorial is to be pre sented," said Dr. Croffut.

or, perhaps only a few moments." "I will not be a member of any such horried and harried and buildozed committee." Dr. Croffet is said to have inter

Dr. Croffet, Mr. Josiah Millard and Mr. Lorin Chappell therefore did not accompany the remainder of the committee on its trip on the F-street cars to the White House and did not receive with the committee the handshake of the President, and were not present when Gen. Birney gave into the President's hand the important me morial. The remainder of the committee were, however, all in attendance, and seemed to be all of one reind and perfectly satisfied with Gen. Birney's memorial and his action. There were in the party which called on the President, Gen. Birney, Gov N. D. Ordway, James P. Edwards, Mr. Henderson, of the East Eckington Association: Henry Barton, W. J. Frizzell; N. W. Hall, Jr., of the South Washington Associa-M J. Brown, Evan H. Tucker, and

R. F. Bradbury. They were received in the President reception room, and after the President had shaken hands with them all Gen. Bir ney made a short speech of presentation.

"I present this memorial recommending the appointment on the District Commis sion of Mr. W. C. Dodge and the reap sintment of Mr. John W. Ross, in behalf of the various citizens' associations of the

He also explained to the President that while the committee would of course be pleased to have both these gentlemen appointed on the commission, they were in favor of either one, if both could not be with either, then?" said the President

"Yes," Gen. Birney assented. The whole business did not last more than two minutes, and into the minds of sympathetic observers there came the question, i all the trouble the committee had been at

was not, at least, partially wasted. The memorial began with a statement of the movement in East Washington, the mass meeting on Tuesday night, with a representation from nine citizens' associa tions. It spoke of the two vacancies to be filled, and of the custom now almost, if not quite, a law, that the two civil ssioners should belong to opposite political parties, and respectfully sugested for the nominations, the names William C. Dodge, Republican, and John

W. Ross, Democrat.
"We submit," said the memorial, "that Mr. Dodge basresided in Washington thirty seven years. That he has spent the greate part of this time in the investigation of nunicipal affairs and in promoting the ceneral welfare of the city without reward or the hope of reward. That to him, mor than any other citizen, was due the very able and voluminous reports on the price of gas, which led to the reduction by Con gress in the price of gas, benefiting the householders of the District very greatly. That he is a man free from any entangle ment with any corporation, speculative class or ring which would be benefited by any special municipal legislation. That his meral character is without a blemish. That he has, by his own good sense and exertions. accumulated enough to place himself in easy circumstances, and that his fellow-citizens who know him best feel that he would administer the affairs of the District

Commissionership ably and impartially."

As to the appointment of Mr. Ross, the memorial continued: "We submit that his long experience in the management of the practical affairs of the District and his intimate acquaintance with all the ques-tions affecting the District and coming op for solution within the last six years, make his membership of the new board almost indispensable. That in all his action as a District official his integrity and honor have never been questioned. That he has not made war unnecessarily upon any class of citizens, or been ever suspected of granting special favors."

The contest for the Democratic District Commissionership seems to be narrowing to ex-Commissioner John W. Ross and Mr. John G. Slater. Mr. Ross himself is not an active candidate, but he has a great many friends who are earnestly endeavoring to secure his nomination. Among this num ber are several United States Senators, including some members of the District Committee. Mr. John G. Slater's friends are making a very aggressive effort to secure him the nomination. He is at this time easily the leader of the several can-didates who represent the silver element of the Democratic party. It is asserted on behalf of Mr. Slater that the first silver Democrat club of this city was formed in his office. The talk in favor of a silver Democratic candidate is that the appoint ment of a gold Democrat will not be a recognition of the Democratic party, no more than a Bryan Republican could under a Democratic Administration be nominated as representative Republican Com-

Bailey, who made a strong race for delegate to the national Reputlican convention against Messrs, Carson and Gleason a year ago, is now being strongly pressed for the position of recorder of deeds. This place has always gone in the past to some noted colored politician outside of the District. It is now claimed that an honest interpreta tion of the St. Louis platform as much as demands the nomination of a local man for this place as for any other District office. Mr. Bailey is very well known in Washington, and is a man of considerable property, being treasurer of one of the local savings banks. A delegation of friends visited the White House yesterday in his interest

FIRE DEPARTMENT AFFAIRS.

Great Improvements Contemplated by the Commissioners.

About August 1 Chief Parris of the fire department will want forty-seven new firemen. An appropriation to pay then will be available then, and probably the department will be re-enforced by several new houses. If nothing unforeseen occurs the proposed new engine house for the northwest will be commenced by April 1. The proposals for the site will be opered Saturday next, and as soon as the missioners decide on a site the building inspector will rush the building up. The proposed Anacostia engine house will also be built as soon as a site for it can be purchased. The new Quincy street house is nearly completed, and the Brightwood ouse will shortly be approved by the

The abandoned house on D street, near Twelfth street, formerly occupied by No. 2 engine, will be refitted at once, for the cal engine, now in the Fourteenthstreet truckhouse. Then the city will be provided with fourteen engines, making a fairly good fire department. Entire new ies will be appointed to operate the new Anacostin and northwest engines. Four men will be sent to Brightwood, when transferred there. Three men and a fore-D-street chemical engine. A total of forty sevenmen are to be appointed. Car-roll was first arrested more than ten years ago by Detective Boyd for house-breaking and larceny and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the Albany penitentiary, from which he was pardoned by ex-President Cleveland.

Mrs. Alexander's Pointed Reply. The answer of Mrs. Mary V. Alexander to the suit for divorce brought some time ago by her husband, Isaac M. Alexander was filed yesterday. The answer is brief and in the handwriting of the wife. It is in the nature of a letter, and reads in part as follows:

'My answer is that I did leave him, as he says, and for reasons entirely satisfac tory to myself, and I shall never live with him again. I shall not attempt to make any defense."

Gamius Get date a Fight While Discussing the Big Scrap. Among the molley crowd which gathered in front The Times building yesterday to read the bulletins of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, were two youths, young in years, but old enough to try to absorb the telegraphic dispatches. The accuracy of their interpretations could not be relied upon, however. Then came a dis-cussion as to the merits of the two combatants, which finally ended in a hand-They started in, with no regard for scientific rules and an absolute indiffer ence as regards the crowd. Presently they stopped, and after a hurried consultation between themselves, called out some fellowplaymates and proceeded in a regular way to settle the difficulty. They chose their referee, who timed the rounds and called a halt when any foul play was made. After a short contest of four rounds they decided that their strength was on a par, despite the difference in size, and concluded to end the fight. A great many pennies changed hands among the crowd of newsboys, for the betting was heavy. Then a reconciliation was considered, and an effort made to restore peace.

A Petty Negro Thief.

Charles Mitchell, a colored man, twentyhree years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Policeman Hayes, of the Sixth precinct, for the larceny of 58 cents from William Dickson, a colored newsboy. Both were selling Times extras on the result of the fight, and because Dickson, who is the younger of the two, was more successful than his rival, Mitchell robbed him of all the money be had. Mitchell was locked larceny from the person.

The proposal of the Chevy Chase Land Company to sell the District a piece of ground, containing 40,000 square feet, located on the east side of Connecticut avenue, extending below Chevy Chase Circle, was accepted conditionally, yester day, by the Commissioners. Napoleon's Horse Mareago .

The most celebrated war horse of the pres ent cetury is unquestionably Napoleon's Marengo. In view of the many hundred biographics of the great captain, it is certainly surprising that so little should be with any degree of certainty concerning this world-famous charger. To an Amercian visitor to the dethroned Bonaparte at Chischurst, in June, 1872, Louis Sapoleon, in a conversation about his own borses and the war steeds of the most illus rious of modern soldiers, said:

"The emperor's favorite charger was Marengo, an Arab of good size and style, and dimest white. He rode him in his last battle of Mount St. Jean, where Marengo received his seventh wound. I once mounted him

I had the best dotor the could not do any of my work. Could scarcely lift a chair. Suffered with pain in my back and hips and had soreness deep, low down across me. I had inflammation and ulceration—so the doctor said. I concluded I would consuit Dr. R. V. Pierce. I wrote to you giving you a full description of my case. You advised me to take your Favorite Prescription. I began taking it at once. In three days I could feel a change, I took three bottles and the result was a complete cure. It has been six months since I nsed your medicine, and I feel no return of the disease at all. I wish also to say I had not been strong for many years. I had taken patent medicines and been attended by doctors but got no better. Today there is not a stronger woman in the country than I am. A WORD TO MOTHERS.

Condensed milk is well known as food in the whole civilized world; it is a substitute for fresh cows' milk, which cannot always e had, and cannot be kept in a suitable condition for a long time. When the now deceased Gail Borden, a man of rare talent and at the same time of practical American intelligence, more than forty years ago and after many experiments, placed his valuable preparation at the disposal of his astonished contemporaries, he, like all other benefactors of mankind, had to fight against ignorance and ill-will. The fact that he was able to convince the world in a comparatively short time of the excellence of his invention, so that it is today known to every child on earth, can only astonish those Who are either unable to estimate the value of condensed milk or who do not want to acknowledge the same naccount of their ill-will or ignorance. Gail Borden Eagle Brand Condensed Milk olves in the most simple way the difficult problem of clearing fresh cows' milk of all s component parts which are a detriment o health, but also of preserving just these which in this kind of milkk are the most desirable ones for human beings in all stages of life. The complete sterilization of the milk, including the condensing process, the full use of all the fat and cream it contains, and finally the addition of sugar in about the same proportion contained in normal mothers' milk, has secured a posi-tion for Borden's preparation for the feeding of babies which cannot be claimed by any other. Mothers who for any reason whatsoever are unable or do not want to nurse their children, will find in Borden' Condensed Milk a substitute for mothers' nilk, complying absolutely with all re quirements of bygiene. There are millions of children who owe their life and health to Borden's milk. The number of physicians and laymen is daily increasing who consider it the most important nutriment for the little ones. It is therefore only natural that the extension of the establishment of the New York Condensed Milk Co. is in exact proportion with the demand for the ar ticle in question. It would be an easy matter to prove by figures that no other establishment like Borden's prepares such mense quantities of milk. These figures would, on account of their startling amount, only spur the envy of our competitors and be of no avail for our readers.

The growth of the factories necessary for the manufacturing of condensed milk s not only caused by the demand for a substitute of mothers' milk, which has to be supplied by the New York Condensed Milk Co., but also by the demand for the various uses of condensed milk in the household. It supplies the place of fresh cream when used with coffee, tea and chocolate. It excels even the best cream from the healthlest cows, and is of the most unsurpassing purity, containing hygienic ingredients not existing in cream. The attention of those who wish to in-form themselves about Gail Borden Eagle Brand condensed milk and its use for infants, is called to a valuable pamphlet entitled "Babies," which will be mailed on application. This pamphlet also con ains valuable directions how to treat bables and infants. This pamphlet cannot be too highly recommended to those interested.
